

SEVEN TEACHERS SHY IN M'CRACKEN

Superintendent Billington at Loss to Supply

Has Little Hope of Supplying Deficiency By the August Examination.

EIGHT SUCCESSFUL IN JULY

McCracken county cannot supply her schools with teachers, and instructors will have to be brought from other counties. Supt. S. J. Billington announced today that he lacked seven of having a sufficient number of teachers to fill his schools, and he has little confidence in the last examinations for certificates in August to supply the deficiency.

Should seven applicants pass, they would not be eligible to teach, because they did not attend the institute, as is provided by law. The result will be that Superintendent Billington will have to take teachers from elsewhere, being eligible by holding a certificate and showing that they attended an institute in some other county.

"I shall do this," stated Supt. Billington. "In order to give McCracken county applicants the preference and advantage, I shall say if any one is successful in examinations held in August, which will be the last, I shall let him teach if he attends an institute in some other county."

Successful Applicants.

Out of a class of eleven examined last week, eight were successful. They are Claude Shemwell, Pearl Miles, J. W. Hughes, Annabel Ackert, Gertrude Nicholson, Joe Lamb, Grace Hughes and Clifton Rives.

Jap Toner Finds His Boy.

When Jap Toner, secretary of the Charity club, yesterday advertised for a good boy of about 16 years who had no people and desired to be adopted, he found him almost in a jiffy; and in the hospital, too. Dr. Gilbert's mother and two sisters reside on a spacious farm in Logan county, and want a young boy to do light chores. Little Damage at Night Fire.

Fire, discovered in the boiler room of the Fowler-Wolfe Sheet Metal Works last night, did little damage. Mr. Wolfe was upstairs and noticed the light and ran in the room. Before the fire department arrived Mr. Wolfe fought the fire with buckets of water and held it in check. The loss is estimated at $100. The plant is running today. Before being checked the fire caught a shed of the H. A. Petter Supply company, and water was thrown on some piping, but no damage resulted.

Baby Left in Basket.

An infant boy, several days old, was left on the front porch of the Home of the Friendless Tuesday night and found by the matron the following morning. The Home has no nursery nor facilities for caring for infants, and desires to find a place for the boy in some private family.

Concrete Plant Machinery.

Five hundred dollars' worth of new machinery has been received for Judge R. T. Lightfoot's concrete sewer pipe plant on South Sixth street. Delay in starting up in the new location, in the Dogwood factory, was caused by the absence of water connection, which was put in last week.

GEN. TYLER SAYS HE HAS HIS DATA

Southern Refugees

Intends To Clinch Point That Memphis Matron Was a Union Sympathizer.

VETERAN IS EAGER IN SEARCH.

General H. A. Tyler, who is in Paducah to vindicate himself in a stand taken in a controversy regarding the alleged banishment of Mrs. T. J. Latham, now of Memphis, from Paducah, in August, 1865, by Union soldiers, is slowly fortifying himself behind a breastwork of affidavits and statements, from some of the oldest residents of the city, who remember details of the banishment. He is eager in his work. "Yes sir, I have been successful in securing the desired information," he declared today, "and when I finish my work, shall have some interesting facts to relate. I have been busy seeing old residents, and the evidence in my favor is overwhelming. I contend that Mrs. T. J. Latham was not banished from Paducah, but was a Union sympathizer, and I am preparing to prove it. There are five survivors of the entire number of women banished and I feel assured that I will secure a statement from each to bear me out."

General Tyler secured a statement today from one resident who was a boy and with his mother when she was banished. He remembers, he says, of those in the party and General Tyler says that this man's statement bears him out in his contention.

"I shall be in your city for some time yet, and shall finish my work before I leave," he said. "I shall have every statement drawn up in affidavit form, and will settle this controversy once and for all, and to the satisfaction of myself and friends."

THEO. PETERS FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Theobald Peters, charged with selling liquor without a license at Eleventh and Broadway, was fined $50 and costs in each of two cases against him in the police court this morning. Several witnesses introduced by the prosecution swore that the liquid, known as "Pale Ale," and manufactured by the Terre Haute Brewing company, was intoxicating. Some were not positive as to its intoxicating qualities, but declared that it was beer, judging from the taste. Peters' attorneys this morning introduced several witnesses who swore they drank several bottles of the liquid and felt no stimulating effects. Peters' attorneys will appeal the case.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MAYFIELD TRIP IS OFF.

A telephone message from Mayfield to The Sun this afternoon, said the water was turned on this morning at 10 o'clock and there is plenty.

MUCH COAL IS SHIPPED SOUTH FROM THE MINES

Illinois Central Railroad is Kept Busy Handling the Enormous Output

Kentucky, especially the western portion, is pouring train after train load of coal into the south, and business at this season was never better. Illinois Central railroad officials declare that the amount of coal being mined and handled by the road, is beyond their expectations. The Graham mines are putting out 150 cars of coal a day. The Luverne mines are putting out about 100 cars per day, and other mines are working in proportion. The cars have to be moved, and it is taxing officials to their utmost to handle the business. This morning there were four freight sections of the morning Fulton-Louisville accommodation passenger train. Each section will bring back a coal train. Because of this big business six farmen were promoted to conductors this week, and more will doubtless follow.

HEROIC LINEMAN SAVES BOY'S LIFE

Clambers Down Pole and Intercepts Runaway. While Youth Clings in Terror to Dashboard of Wagon

DEATH WAS IN STORE FOR HIM.

Climbing from a telephone pole James Thornton, a Home Telephone company lineman, stopped a runaway and saved Guy Clark, a six year old boy, from death under the wheels of a grocery delivery wagon last evening about 7 o'clock on Tennessee street near Sixteenth street. A maddened horse was tearing down the street with the little fellow clinging desperately to the foot board. Just beyond lay the railroad tracks, and had the horse reached them it would doubtless have shaken the boy off.

Dorrel Ford, 8 years old, son of J. P. Ford, the grocer of 1704 Tennessee street with Guy Clark, the six-year-old son of Massine Clark, of 727 Goebel avenue, had been delivering goods in the early evening, and had started home, when at Twelfth and Ohio streets, the horse frightened and became unmanageable. The Ford boy was driving, and a quick turn of the wagon threw him out.

Spectators expected to see his neck broken, but he arose and ran after the flying horse. The little Clark boy clung desperately to the foot board. Spectators shut their eyes when the horse neared the railroad tracks, realizing the possibilities of a fatal accident. The lineman was on top of a pole repairing an "emergency case," when he realized at a glance the boy's position. He literally ran down the pole and threw himself in the way of the horse, stopping the animal a few feet east of the railroad tracks.

TIE CARRIERS STRIKE FOR INCREASED WAGES

Tie carriers at Joppla, Ill., struck yesterday for an increase in wages. The Ayer-Lord Tie company unloads their barges at Brookport and this week gave the carriers an increase of one-fourth cent for each tie unloaded, and carriers for the companies, unloading at Joppla, went on a strike for an increase, too. No settlement had been affected last night, and it had not been learned today what steps had been taken.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON WITNESSED LAST NIGHT

The moon went into partial eclipse last night, beginning shortly before 9 o'clock and beginning a recession about 10 o'clock. At one time, when the eclipse was at its best, the moon was three quarters covered. By 11:30 o'clock it had gotten well away from the shadow. Hundreds of Paducahans saw it, being up and out of doors last night, because of the excessive heat.

NO INJUNCTION IN BOYLE CASE

Mayor's Revocation of License
Good in Circuit Court

Attorneys Pray Appeal and Sue Out
Writ of Prohibition for Police Judge.

IS RESTRAINED TWENTY DAYS.

Attorneys for Hugh Boyle saloon keeper at Fourth and Kentucky avenue, whose injunction to restrain Mayor Yeiser from revoking his license, was dissolved this morning by Judge Reed, in the circuit court, are making a desperate effort to save his license for him, and prevent his prosecution for retailing liquor without a license, warrants, charging him with which, have been sworn out by Chief of Police Collins.

A writ of prohibition directed to Judge Cross, to prevent his hearing the case of selling without a license and an appeal to the court of appeals from Judge Reed's decision in the injunction proceedings, are both being sued out today, and meanwhile Judge Reed is continuing the temporary restraining order 20 days to allow counsel time to get the appeal before one of the justices of the court of appeals at chambers.

Accepting as true Mayor Yeiser's affidavit and answer that he revoked Boyle's license 60 seconds after his conviction in police court of Sunday selling, Judge Reed said he could not well restrain the mayor from doing something he had already done, since the appeal was not perfected and the temporary restraining order issued until an hour after the revocation. Judge Reed held valid the ordinance, authorizing the mayor to revoke saloon licenses and denied the petitioner's contention that service of notice of intention to apply for an injunction was sufficient to restrain the mayor under the circumstances.

All these points will be brought before the court of appeals at the hearing. Attorneys Hal Corbett and Eugene Graves, for Boyle, say they are certain to establish the unconstitutionality of the ordinance, authorizing the mayor to revoke saloon licenses.

As soon as Judge Reed announced his decision they prayed an appeal and asked for continuance of the restraining order for 20 days which was granted. The writ of prohibition will be sued out in the circuit court.

PICNIC PLANNED FOR CHILDREN OF THE POOR

There is nothing that the average boy or girl enjoys more than a picnic in the woods, and no matter how warm the day is it is an easy matter to collect a crowd of young folks for an outing in the woods. The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Childs, appreciating the keen pleasure of such outings for the youngsters who have little opportunity for enjoying them have made it an annual practice to take out three or four hundred children every year, and with the assistance of the people who take an interest in their charity work have always made great success of this feature. This year will be no exception to the general rule, and the picnic will be given August 6. As the weather is warm, and soliciting is a hard task, Mrs. Childs, who attends to this feature of the work, has requested The Sun to ask all those who will donate something for the picnic to telephone her or Mr. Childs at the mission at once.

FUNERAL OF W. S. HAYS HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of Col. Will S. Hays was conducted at the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock this afternoon. This was made necessary on account of the fact that the Second Presbyterian church, of which Col. Hays was a member, is closed for repairs. The services were conducted by the Rev. Charles R. Hemphill and Dr. J. Spruille Lyons. The musical program includes two of the songs composed by Col. Hays that he had always requested to be sung at his funeral. Both are familiar to the churches of various denominations in the city, having been sung for many years since their composition by quartets and choirs.

The songs, "Save One Bright Crown for Me" and "Enter In," were rendered by a special choir, and Prof. George Selby, a life-long friend of Col. Hays has charge of the music. The burial was in Cave Hill cemetery.

EXCURSION RATES

WILL CONTINUE IN POLICY OF CENTRAL RAILROADS.

Decision Made Not to Abandon the Special Inducements to Traveling Public Under New Law.

New York, July 25.—Policy of granting railroad excursions in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will be continued. This was decided at a meeting of representatives of the trunk lines concerned today. Recent legislation in these states fixed the maximum passenger rate at two cents per mile and it has been thought that the railroads might retaliate by making the maximum also the minimum rate, so as to abandon frequent excursions. Following the meeting President Underwood, of the Erie road, said:

"Fall excursions are a big feature in these states. Big excursions run to camp meetings, country fairs and harvest home celebrations. The question arose whether it would not be well to discontinue the special low excursion rates and put in operation the maximum two cents as the law provides. In past excursion rates have been considerably below two cents. It was decided, however, not to change the present methods, as each railroad being allowed to make whatever rates it may choose for this class of traffic."

Pitching for the Girls.

Lee Hart, the Paducah baseball pitcher, is making good with the Bloomer Girls, and yesterday at Mound City shut out the Mound City team by a score of 2 to 0. Hart pitched against the Bloomer Girls here last Saturday, relieving Dickie, whose arm was not in shape, and so well did he work that the manager made him an offer. He accepted, after deliberation, and joined Monday. He is a promising pitcher and will doubtless break into league ball in another year or two.

Another promising Paducah pitcher is Ulysses Arnold who has allowed but few hits in the games he has worked. Arnold is very young yet, and has a future before him.

Buffalo Club Holds Trophy for Percentage—Tie for Runabout Cup.

New York, July 25.—The fourth annual Glidden cup tour of the American Automobile association aggregating 1,700 miles from Cleveland, Ohio, to the Atlantic coast cities, by way of Chicago, and covered in twelve days, was completed yesterday. The run from Philadelphia to Jersey City—96 miles—was covered in five and a half hours. The entire party arrived in Jersey City at 12:30 o'clock and crossed to Manhattan.

Although several women started from Cleveland, the only one to finish with the party is Mrs. Andrew Cuneous.

Nineteen cars completed the run with perfect scores. Twelve others had percentages ranging from 997 down to 295.

G. S. Smith, of Philadelphia, and H. K. Sheridan, of Cleveland, are tied for the Howell runabout cup. The Buffalo club, the holder, again won the trophy for the club percentage.

Loafers were not on the wharfbat this morning, and Patrolmen Cross and Johnson were present to see that they were not. It is a question of go to work or get away from the wharfbat, where they prevent others working, and a majority chose the privilege of going up the hill. Steamboats are going, but the number of rousters are limited. This morning the Dick Fowler had only a few loading the boat, but freight was light and the rousters were not missed much. The coal companies have plenty of workers to coal the boats today.

S.S.S. GREATEST OF ALL TONICS

Everyone should take a tonic in the Spring; their systems require it. The blood has become thick and sluggish with the accumulations left in the system from breathing the impure air of closed rooms and overheated buildings; the heavy, rich foods of the Winter season, etc., and when this vital fluid is aroused and stirred to quicker action by the return of warmer weather, these waste matters and poisons are distributed through the circulation, to act depressingly and injuriously on the system. The blood being in this unnatural and impure condition is unable to furnish the body with the proper amount of nourishment and strength, and the system suffers from debility, weakness, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and many other unpleasant symptoms of a disordered blood circulation.

The depleted system must have assistance; it needs a tonic and it is important that the proper one be selected. When the health is in this disordered condition it is not safe to take unknown concoctions, sarsaparillas, etc., because they usually contain potash or other strong mineral ingredients which act unfavorably and often dangerously on the run-down, weakened system, at a time when it needs gentle and natural stimulation to throw off the impurities and recuperate its lost energy. A great deal is being said these days about living close to nature, and it is more applicable to medicines, perhaps, than anything else. Nature has provided a remedy for all the ills of mankind, and medicines made from nature's vegetation act better in every way than do the strong mineral mixtures which are the products of the chemist's or apothecary's shop.

The greatest of all tonics is S. S. S. It is made entirely of the roots, herbs and barks of the forests and fields, selected for their purifying and health restoring qualities; and as it does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form it is especially adapted for a systemic remedy, one that is absolutely safe for young or old. S. S. S. acts directly on the blood, ridding it of any and all impurities and poisons, and restoring the lost properties of rich, nutritive strength so that it is enabled to supply to the system the healthful, invigorating energy needed to pass this trying season of the year. Its action is the most prompt, pleasant and satisfactory of all tonics and blood purifiers, and those who are beginning to feel the need of a medicine to fortify the system against the unpleasant conditions that come with Spring, will do well to commence its use at once. It will not only tone up the system, but will remove any taint or humor that may be in the blood and thus prevent an outbreak of Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum or other rash or eruption of the skin. S. S. S. restores lost energy, relieves that worn-out, tired feeling, quiets the nerves, helps the appetite and imparts a relish for food, and in every way adds tone and vigor to the entire system, and prepares it for the depressing Summer months that are to follow.

In selecting your tonic for this year do not be led into believing that others are "just as good," but get S. S. S., THE GREATEST OF ALL TONICS, and one that for more than forty years has been recognized as such. It is Nature's tonic, absolutely pure and safe, and reliable in every way. S. S. S. is for sale at all first-class drug stores.

The C. M. Pate was let off the dry docks yesterday afternoon and is receiving the finishing touches today from the painters' brush. It was a fine piece of work and appreciated. Captain Taylor thought of the hot sun and straightway went up the hill and returned with a straw hat for each of his men. The gifts were appreciated.

A loaded barge was taken out on the docks for repairs today. This is something unusual, and is the second time it has been done. The first was a barge loaded with corn. The barge of the C. M. Pate was loaded with coal and no place to store it was at hand so it was lifted out with the coal.

Capt. James Good, well known to river men here as former president of the Mississippi Valley Transportation company, died in St. Louis yesterday. It is said of him that he ran provision boats for Grant's army during the war.

The federal board of inquiry investigating the wrecking of the steamer Tennessee at the Eads bridge in St. Louis last week, returned a verdict suspending Captain Young's license fifteen days. Pilot Anthony Burbach's six months and Mate John Leonard's ninety days. Young was found guilty of negligence in leaving the landing with the signal whistle out of order, and Burbach and Leonard were found guilty of cowardice.

Official Forecasts.
The Ohio, at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue rising during the next two days. At Paducah and Cairo will continue rising slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours.
The Tennessee from Florence to below Johnsonville will probably continue falling slowly during the next 24 hours.
The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo will continue rising during the next 24 to 36 hours.

Quaintness of the Hermit Kingdom

Korea, called by outsiders the "Hermit Kingdom," is known to its own people as Che-sen, meaning "morning calm" or "morning freshness."

It comprises a peninsula of Asia northeast of China, 600 miles long, 135 miles broad and including an area of about 83,000 square miles. The population is estimated at from eight to sixteen million people, including foreigners, of whom the greater number are Japanese. There are about 300 Americans resident in the country.

The Koreans are of Mongolian origin, tall, robust and rather prepossessing in appearance. Their language is polysyllabic. In dress, customs and architecture they show the influence of Chinese civilization. The Chinese claim to have civilized Korea in the twelfth century B. C.

Korea had been under the suzerainty of China from earliest times, except for a brief period between 1692 and 1698 when it was under Japanese protection, until 1876, when Japan signed a treaty recognizing it as an independent nation.

The burdens of life, fall more heavily upon the women of Korea than in most countries, even in the Orient. Indeed, it would be difficult to point to any nation where the lot of woman is more completely unfavorable than in Korea. The male Korean, except in the highest classes, regards his wife as the burden bearer of the family.

Curiously enough, however, the male Korean does not attain to the full dignity of man's estate until he marries. No matter how long he may defer that event, he is compelled to go bare-headed and to wear his hair in a pig-tail until his wedding. He is treated as a boy, excluded from the councils of men and is a person of no consequence during the pig-tail period of his life.

Korea is the paradise of quacks. As medicine the ground skull of a tiger is high in favor for all ills, while ginseng, pulverized horns of a fawn, macerated spiders and similar mixtures are consumed in great quantities with trust and confidence in their virtue. In surgery their practice is limited to the crudest operations.

Religion in Korea as far as there may be said to be any, is modeled on Chinese patterns with such results as might be expected. Law and the administration of justice are utterly feeble and reeking with corruption. The reins of government, as in China, are in the hands of a class which, by family tradition, lives by the shameless oppression and robbery of the poor.

Koreans are passionately devoted to flowers, although comparatively few have the means to indulge their taste in this direction.

The land is generously blessed with animal life. There are no oxen, however, and Koreans never use milk or any of its products. The work is all done by bullocks, which usually attain magnificent development. Without his bullock the Korean would be helpless, and this fact is cited to prove that the Koreans have never been a nomadic people.

Korea produces no sheep, but none in that country is so poor as not to own at least one dog. No family would be complete without a dog.

Koreans, unlike the Japanese, love a good fire when the chill blasts of winter sweep across the barren country. This fondness for warmth is the cause of that barren appearance which so often has been referred to by travelers. The Koreans keep their forests cut to the quick to provide fuel, while the canny Japs let their forests grow and shiver.

Every one smokes in Korea. Both men and women use pipes with a tiny metal bowl and stems so long that generally assistance must be asked to light them. As they are inveterate smokers the greater part of the Korean's day is consumed in loading and lighting pipes.

The Koreans are essentially an agricultural people. They come from a stock entirely different from their two great neighbors, China the merchant nation, and Japan the fighting people. They are undoubtedly of Turanian origin with a strong admixture of Chinese and Manchu blood.

The Koreans are a peaceful and hospitable people, though they have fought well and bravely when they have had to fight. They seem to lack the strain of fighting Malay blood which is so strongly marked in the composition of the warlike Japanese.

Seoul, the capital, is an ancient walled city built in a network of hills eighteen miles from the sea. It is fortified in the strongest fashion by a system of walls that would drive any but an Asiatic army gasping into the sea. It is poor in appearance but rich in ideas. On autumn nights tigers and other beasts of prey frequently contest the right of way with belated travelers in the streets.

The vista across the housetops of Seoul is one of appalling monotony. All chimneys empty into the narrow streets about two feet from the ground, and at eventide when the good wives start their fires the pall of smoke and ashes that settles upon the town would make a London fog look like a section of the cerulean blue. The one advantage of the smoke evil in Seoul is its ability to suppress the odors which rise up from its dreadful thoroughfares.

Seoul is the home of mourners. Indeed it may be said literally with the scriptures that "the mourners go about the streets." When a Korean is bereaved by the death of a close relative he is entitled to mourn his loss for a period of three years, and during this time he is not expected to perform any labor. As the average male Korean professes of lofty scorn for labor at any time, it is quite to be expected that the period of woe is accepted with resignation if not embraced with joy by nearly all.

The wall surrounding Seoul, from which kites fly perennially, is a small replica of the great Chinese wall. The traveler is welcomed at the west gate, but should unfortunate chance delay him until the sun has disappeared and a big bell booms its warning note, he must prepare to camp in the open until the morn brings the gate-keeper back to his duty. Barring an occasional court pageant, Seoul is singularly free from sights to interest the tourist.

A Seoul bakeshop is a triumph of cleanliness and altogether a unique institution. Of course there is an oven. Rice flour is dampened and kneaded into dough. This mass is spread upon a block and two lusty men proceed to treat it to a pounding process with heavy wooden mauls. While this is being done an elderly assistant dips his hands into water and performs the somewhat hazardous feat of keeping the dough moist by patting it between the blows of the others. The oven crowns the work.

BLUE GRASS SEED CORNER EFFECTED

Paris, Ky., Syndicate Has 200,000 Bushels

Practically All There Is Except About 10,000 Bushels Held By One Party.

OBJECTION TO JUDGE ROBBINS.

Paris, Ky., July 25.—A syndicate composed of J. S. Wilson, E. F. Spears and Sons, of this city, and D. S. Gay, of Winchester, Ky., today closed a deal by which they become the possessors of about 700,000 bushels of Kentucky bluegrass seed, practically all there is in the country, with the exception of about 10,000 bushels held by one party.

It is estimated it will take $500,000 to finance the deal. The seed is to be delivered by August 1, the market opening on that date. The annual demand averages about 500,000 bushels, a large part of which goes to Europe.

Wants Robbins Removed.

Georgetown, Ky., July 25.—It is said here that the first step to be taken in the case of Caleb Powers, which is to be tried at a special term of Scott circuit court, beginning on Monday next, will be the filing of an affidavit executed by the defendant in an effort to swear Special Judge Joseph E. Robbins, appointed by the governor, off the bench. Judge Robbins presided during the last trial of the case, the judgment in which was reversed by the court of appeals. There was some question of whether his first commission did not entitle him to continue as special judge, but this was removed by his again being appointed. It is not known upon what ground the effort to remove the special judge is to be based. Should Judge Robbins vacate the bench, a trial of the case at this time would be impossible, as some time might be required in securing another judge to serve.

CUTS OFF HIS TONGUE WITH A POCKET KNIFE.

Ohio Man Performs an Operation Which the Doctors Refused to Do.

Springfield, O., July 25.—To cut off a person's tongue is a medical operation rarely resorted to, but for a man to do it himself and purposely, is a feat almost unheard of. This is what a Clark county man did and has not yet suffered any ill effects.

John Geron, proprietor of an elevator situated on the Sandusky division of the Big Four railroad, about eight miles north of this city, has been a great sufferer for the past two years from a cancer on his tongue. He has spent hundreds of dollars in treatment, but could not secure any relief. Recently he has implored surgeons to cut off his tongue, but all to whom the request was made refused to perform the operation.

Knowing that he would have to die sooner or later of the cancer, Geron decided to be his own surgeon. After he put a keen edge on his pocket-knife, he pulled his tongue as far out of his mouth as possible and gave it a slash. It was cleanly severed near the tonsils. While he succeeded in freeing himself of the cancer he also deprived himself of a very necessary adjunct to his talkative powers. He wrote a note saying he would have an artificial tongue hooked on to the stub remaining.

Serious Handicap

"Somebody ought to talk to Young fellow. He'll never get on in politics if he keeps on antagonizing the powers that be."

"But he doesn't. He is careful to do all that is required of him." "That's all well, but it won't help him while his wife persists in copying the boss' wife's new dresses."—Baltimore American.

All construction work on the Manila Railroad company's new line is performed by Filipino labor, under the supervision of American engineers and superintendents. ## GEORGIA DISASTER

U. S. NAVAL BOARD MAKES REPORT ON ACCIDENT.

"Flare Back" Found to Be Cause, But No One Is Blamed for Result.

Washington, July 25.—The report of the naval board which investigated the accident in the eight-inch turret of the Georgia was received at the navy department today. Admiral Evans endorsed the findings.

Acting Secretary Newberry said the conclusion that the accident was caused by a delayed "flare back" apparently afforded all the information of interest to the public.

He Didn't Fit the Water.

A jolly old steamboat captain with more girth than height was asked if he had ever had any very narrow escapes.

"Yes," he replied, his eyes twinkling; "once I fell off my boat at the mouth of Bear creek, and, although I'm an expert swimmer, I guess I'd been there now if it hadn't been for my crew. You see the water was just deep enough so's to be over my head when I tried to wade out, and just shallow enough"—he gave his body an explanatory pat—"so that whenever I tried to swim out I dragged bottom."—Everybody's.

SOFT, GLOSSY HAIR.

It Can Only Be Had Where There Is No Dandruff.

Any man or woman who wants soft, glossy hair must be free of dandruff, which causes falling hair. Since it has become known that dandruff is a germ disease, the old hair preparations that were mostly scalp irritants, have been abandoned, and the public, barbers and doctors, included, have taken to using Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. E. Dodd, Dickinson, N. D., says: "Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp from dandruff and prevents the hair falling out, but promotes a new growth. Herpicide keeps my hair very glossy. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1 bottles. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. W. B. McPherson, Special Agent."

TAKEN FROM PENITENTIARY TO ATTEND SON'S FUNERAL.

Old Friends Stand Mute By as Iowa Father Weeps at Bier.

Fort Madison, Iowa, July 25.—For the first time in 10 years William Adams, life prisoner in the Fort Madison penitentiary, saw the world outside the prison bars as he was hurried back to his old home at Lisle, Mo., to attend the funeral of his eldest son, says a special dispatch to the Fort Madison Capital.

A mere child at the time the father was taken away, he beheld the dead body of his boy grown almost to manhood, and wept piteously as he bent over the lifeless form.

Old friends and neighbors stood mutely and sympathetically aside as with bent form and hung head, the father followed the body to the little lot in the cemetery and saw it lowered into the grave. Then they crowded about him and silently shook his hand.

Hardly a word was spoken, and soon the aged man was speeding back to again take up his dreary round behind the penitentiary walls.

"Labor Day Celebration.

Dispelling all rumors that Labor Day celebrations would be taken to Mayfield or Cairo, Central Labor Union announces that Paducah will again be the hub for celebrations in this section. Because of friction among union men and certain merchants, there was wild talk of taking the celebration elsewhere, but little weight was ever given the reports.

IN LOUISVILLE.

Misfortunes of poor Billy Semolin, removed county clerk of Jefferson county, if he is guilty of the conversion of $50,000 of the state's funds, will furnish a text for much preaching, and, yet, the circumstances point directly to a particular instance of a too weak man, entrusted with public funds—or a bad selection, rather than a condition of affairs. Only incidentally does the case point a political moral, the bad effect of a party machine entrenched behind a big majority. Mayhap the unfortunate official was convinced Louisville would always remain Democratic, and so long as he was loyal to its interests, he could do as he pleased with his office, overlooking the fact that there is a city machine and a state machine, local courts and state courts.

Unquestionably, if "Billy" Semolin used these funds, as alleged, he expected to pay them back. That is ever the way of the moral weakling. He uses trust funds in his private business, confident that he can replace them with the profits of the venture. But the man, who has not sufficient judgment to leave other people's money alone, seldom has judgment enough to make a good investment.

Such conditions and such men are produced under machine domination. Political machines need weak men who can be handled. In Louisville conditions have been bettered by the removal of the corruptly elected Democratic office holders, because any change would have been an improvement; but it is only the substitution of one machine for another, and we are of the opinion that the new alliance is worse than the old. The Kohn-Whalen faction, long since discredited, has ridden in on the tide that engulfed the Halde-man-Grainger regime, and while sympathizing with the state administration in state politics, these men are playing the Louisville situation to fasten their own control on affairs.

There is only one salvation for Louisville this fall, and the Republicans of the Falls City, by their good sense in making it a straight party fight, are offering the city the opportunity.

After reciting the romantic story, which found its way the round of the press, about an Octoroon, who was a leader of society in Chicago University, the Chicago Tribune manifests its greatness by apologizing for publication of the story which was a fake, and this without any complaint being made to it. We have yet to hear apologies from anybody for publishing the story of the Japanese admiral who was sketching fortifications on the Pacific coast. Perhaps, though, somebody got "fired."

Col. Will S. Hays has gone to join "Uncle Sam" Emmett; but "Dixie" lives on, its stirring strains never failing to thrill with a potency all their own.

Reports from the state Republican central committee indicate that the Ohio situation may be withdrawn from the consideration of The Hague conference.

That congressional junketing committee could have saved time and money by coming to Paducah and inquiring about immigration.

After some 48 hours' neglect of the subject, the News-Democrat last evening revived its interest in the Boyle case sufficiently to devote over a half column to interviews with attorneys concerning what the attorneys believed Judge Reed, of the circuit court, had practically decided in the case, and what those attorneys would do in case Judge Reed should admit certain pleadings. Waiving a natural curiosity as to the purpose of the article, we have two suggestions to offer—the circuit court is located in Paducah, not over six blocks from any newspaper office, and its sessions are public; the best way to get news of the proceedings in that court is to send a reporter to the court. If we desired to know what attitude Judge Reed had assumed toward a particular issue, we should interview Judge Reed, rather than an advocate for either side.

Paducah is performing a patriotic duty. The whole immigration problem will be solved by the distribution of the immigrants throughout the country, so that they may be brought under American influences.

The Hague is not a hotel, as might be inferred from the fact that it is adopted the American plan exclusively.

The Rev. F. W. Hawley is evidently a man, who knows when he is whipped.

Attorneys for Haywood are vehement in their declarations that Harry Orchard is a liar and a murderer. Thus far they corroborate Orchard's own testimony.

The Sun indorses the action of the members of the board of public works in protesting against the manner in which First street is blocked to traffic by the railroad tracks. The tracks should conform to the grade and they should be filled in. The river traffic of Paducah is constantly increasing and wharfage is now scarcely sufficient for the trade. With Kentucky avenue wantonly blocked, hauling is hampered, and there is no excuse for such a total disregard of the rights of the public. We trust the board of public works will now proceed to compel whoever is responsible to put those tracks in proper condition, so that the rights of other people to travel on First street may be equally recognized with that of the railroad.

Between railroad wreck, steamboat catastrophes and balloon accidents, the angel of death is reaping dividends from all the transportation lines of earth, sea and sky.

Fortunately, the Republican ticket in Paducah this fall requires no defense.

Lieutenant Colonel Ayres complains that other men of his rank less fit than he, are unmolested, while he was ordered before the medical board and retired. But Col. Ayres must remember that the wives of the other officers have not attracted the attention of the department to the deficiencies.

After roasting him to a "frazzle," because he is a Republican, the Kentucky State Journal says of Capt. Ed Farley: "While personally a genial, clever gentleman, he offers to the independent voter no attractions not possessed by the Democratic nominee, and therefore nothing can be urged in his favor."

Vanity is the quality that makes woman make her mirror convince her that she is pretty.

MANY SPEECHES ARE INTERPOLATED

Makes Institute More Attractive and Broader

Hon. William Marble Addressed the County Teachers at Session This Morning.

WILL GET THROUGH ON TIME.

Numerous addresses before the McCracken County Teachers' Institute have taken up much time, but it is not begrudged. The institute has been made the better by reason of the features, and each day's program will have one or more speakers. It infuses interest and causes thought along lines different from those suggested by the work mapped out. While a majority of the addresses bore directly on some class of education, other suggestions awakening discussions have resulted not aimed at in the regular course of study.

The institute is by far the most successful ever held. The instructor believes that he will catch up with the program today, and no night sessions will be necessary. The volume of work to be done at first suggested night sessions, but the dispatch exhibited in the work showed clearly that day sessions would be sufficient.

Morning Session.
 The fourth morning session opened with devotional services by Miss May Ellis. Miss Annabelle Acker followed with a piano solo, and County Superintendent S. J. Billington followed Miss Acker with a vocal solo. His song was greatly enjoyed.

Discipline.
 The subject "Discipline" was taken up this morning. It was presented and discussed first by Instructor T. J. Coates. Discussions of sub-topics follow:

"Force of Example," G. Tyree.
 "Happiness and Contentment as Factors," Clifton Reeves.
 "Positive Moral Exercise," E. B. Jett.
 "Proper Incentives," D. E. Wilson.
 "Specific School Offenses," Bertha Boaz.

"Reaction of Discipline to Professional Success," W. T. Harrison.
 "Interest and Discount," R. B. Kirkpatrick.

Geography.
 Yesterday afternoon Geography was discussed thoroughly.

"First and Second Year," E. B. Jett and Rubie Knott.
 "How to Introduce the Text Book," George Orr.
 "Order of Presenting Facts," K. Finley.

"Climate, How to Teach," S. J. Billington.

The work was suspended temporarily and Hon. William Marble addressed the institute. He talked on education and how to interest the public mind in the work. His talk was highly instructive and suggestive of many departures from the usual custom of school management.

History.
 "The German Method of Teaching," J. W. Hughes
 "Facts in Teaching," R. B. Kirkpatrick.

"How Primary and Advanced Differ," J. J. Miller.

This afternoon's session began at 2 o'clock with a musical feature, Superintendent Billington leading in singing. Following the opening County Attorney Alben Barkley spoke briefly to the teachers on educational lines.

 At this afternoon's session Dr. John McKinney, Jr., of Ragland, will address the institute on Physiology

AID FOR BACKWARD PUPILS.
 "No Grade Classes" Under Tutorial System to Be Established for Deficient Public School Students.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—To assist backward students of the public schools and enable them to keep up with their classes, the elementary schools committee of the board of education authorized the establishment of what will be known as "no grade classes."

These will be tried in the Randall school, at Ninth and Bainbridge streets, and the Wharton school, at Fifth street and Washington avenue. Students who have fallen behind by absence or some other unavoidable cause, as well as those mentally deficient in certain branches, will be transferred from their classes and placed under the personal supervision of the teacher in charge of the "no grade classes." She will be obliged to give each pupil special attention, and in this manner the board hopes to overcome the difficulty that has always been experienced by teachers in the foreign settlements, where English particularly retards the progress.

DARROW'S VOICE

RAISED AGAINST CULTURE, EDUCATION AND WEALTH.

Denounces Constitution in His Impassioned Defense of Hay.

Boise, Idaho, July 25.—The career of Frank Steunenberg, the murdered governor of Idaho, was discussed at length this afternoon by Clarence Darrow in his plea in behalf of William D. Haywood. Justifying the articles published in the Miners' Magazine, the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, Darrow said the actions of Steunenberg in asking for United States troops to quell the riot and the establishment of martial law in 1899, was unjustifiable and properly stirred up intense feeling in labor circles against the governor.

Darrow's argument developed into an appeal for labor as against capital, and a denunciation of opposition to union. Culture, education and wealth were described as constituting a combination against workmen; the uneducated and poor must be ever protected said Darrow, and he sneered at universities. "And what is a cultured man," he cried, "but a cruel tyrant always."

Reaching the climax of sympathy for the working class and hatred for the rich, he assailed the constitution of the country and cried: "The constitution! The constitution! It is here only to destroy laws made for the benefit of the poor."

HOT WEATHER SUGGESTIONS.

Every chance acquaintance, these hot days, can tell you what to do to keep well and cool, but the safest advice is keep close to Nature.

Nature says don't drink very much ice water—use the tempered water.

Don't eat heating dishes, warm meats, and heavy vegetables, but confine yourselves to light vegetables and fruits, and cold meats.

Nature, also, says, and its injunction is in strong terms, to keep the system in good condition, the liver, bowels, stomach, kidneys and skin as every one contributes to health or ill health.

Osteopathy is Nature's treatment, and the most rational for all disease, especially the ailments incident to hot weather. Those weak, tired out and run-down conditions; dull headaches; disturbed bowel conditions, and torpid liver yield quickly to its application.

But, let me tell you any time, of people you know well, who will cheerfully tell you what Osteopathy has done and is doing for them. That is unobjectionable evidence and will appeal to you. Dr. G. B. Froese, 516 Broadway, upstairs, Phone 1407.

Agreement Reached.

Rock Island, Ill., July 25.—The strike inaugurated a week ago, by the carmen in the shops of the Rock Island system, was settled today. The men returned to work. An agreement was reached whereby the grievances are to be submitted to arbitration. Over 1,400 men had quit work.

RAILROAD NOTES

John Hollan, manager of the Paducah Independent baseball team, and an employee of the night round house force in the Illinois Central shops, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning. When Hollan left the shops to go home he waited at Twelfth street and Broadway for a car. The car slowed down. Hollan wears a cork leg. He tried for the car but did not swing quick enough.

Clinging to the handle he was dragged several dozen yards before the car was stopped. His shoes were beaten into shreds at the toes, and his vest torn off. His watch was smashed.

One good turn deserves another, and when a steamboat recently transferred a locomotive from the Kentucky to the Illinois side of the Ohio river, railroad men looked for some steamboat work. This morning it came on a big flat car in the shape of a shaft of a large steamboat, broken in two. It presents an opportunity for a demonstration of welding and will be welded under the supervision of Mr. Jerome Smith, foreman of the blacksmith shop, who has won a reputation for this particular class of work. No papers have been received to show from what boat the shaft came.

Engineer John Mulvin, of Paducah, saved a deaf mute from death under his engine wheels at Cairo last evening as the Cairo-Paducah accommodation train was leaving Cairo. When the engine was gaining speed a man of past middle age walked out into the tracks, grip in hand and back toward the approaching train. Mulvin signaled, but the stranger paid no attention to it. Emergency brakes were applied, and the train stopped a few feet from the man. He proved to be a deaf mute.

There is more engine work in the Paducah Illinois Central shops today than there has been for many months. Not a stall in the machine shops is vacant, and the round house is "full up" this morning. So many engines have been sent here for repairs that several have stood for days on sidings, waiting to be run into either the round house or machine shops. One engine which had to be gotten out at once, was placed on the transfer table and backed to the tank repairing shed.

Pay car day brought three resignations in the machine shops, and this morning three new men were put on to fill the vacancies. The force in the mechanical department is now full, and no extra men will be put on unless in unlooked for emergencies.

Supt. A. H. Egan and Roadmaster A. F. Blaess, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, are in the city on an inspection.

Paducah will be visited today or tomorrow by Mr. William Renshaw, superintendent of machinery of the Illinois Central, and his assistant, Mr. Joseph Baker. The officials are now at Memphis on an inspection, and will reach here this week. Local officials have seen to the cleaning of the shops before the higher officials arrive.

Master Mechanic R. E. Fuimer, of the Illinois Central, has returned from Memphis, where he yesterday attended a monthly meeting of mechanical officials.

Mr. Fred McCreary, the Illinois

THE THREAD TRUST.

As anticipated, the dogs of war in the trade have been let loose to fight about the price of a spool of thread. It will be remembered that the price was advanced on May 29 to 67¢ per dozen, less a discount of 7 per cent. within 60 days. A cash discount of 1 per cent. in 30 days or 2 per cent. in 10 days from date of invoice is allowed. Customers are guaranteed against loss on stock on hand and in transit by any change in price made by the seller. The retail selling price was advanced at the same time from 5 to 6 cents per spool of 200 yards.

So strong were some of the objections that the Spool Cotton company, whose offices are on White street, sent out a circular June 27 to its customers, explaining why the advance was made. The circular read: "In answer to inquiries as to the reason why the price of various makes and grades of spool cotton sold by us have been made because of the increase in the cost of manufacturing. Since 1899, when the former price was adopted, the kind of cotton used in the spool cotton we sell has advanced in cost 134 per cent., labor per capita 24 per cent., coal 22 per cent., spools 41 per cent., and general supplies 119 per cent. Under the circumstances we trust our customers will appreciate that the increase in our prices has not been unreasonable or arbitrary, and that it has been caused solely by the increased cost of manufacturing.—Journal of Commerce.

Not His Ducks.

A story is told of the famous Richard Brinsley Sheridan that one day when coming back from shooting, with an empty bag, and seeing a number of ducks in a pond, while nearly a man was leaning on a fence watching him, Sheridan asked: "What will you take for a shot at the ducks?" "Well," said the man, thoughtfully, "I'll take half a sovereign." "Done," said Sheridan, and he fired into the middle of the flock, killing a dozen or more. "I'm afraid you made a bad bargain," said Sheridan, laughing. "I don't know about that," the man replied. "They're not my ducks."

WITH DIRTY CARS

Train After Train Pass Through Des Moines on Rock Island Road.

Des Moines, July 25.—While the striking carmen of the Rock Island road joined the shop employees at a picnic today, train after train passed through Des Moines with uncleaned coaches. The windows were dirty, orange and banana peeling mingled with dust on the seats and the intense heat made the day coaches anything but comfortable. No preparations were made to fill the strikers' places.

Mitchell, district attorney for the First judicial district of Mississippi, today filed suit against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, in the circuit court of Lee county, for the recovery of penalties amounting to $1,400,000. This suit is brought for the state of Mississippi upon the relation of George T. Mitchell, district attorney, and is the first one of this character ever brought in the state. Penalties sought to be recovered are provided for in the anti-trust laws of the code of Mississippi, and there seems to be no escape from the operation of these laws.

This Story Will Begin next Monday

Provocation Enough.
A deaf old gentleman dined with a family where grace was always said. When the guests were seated the host bowed his head and began to repeat the accustomed verse in a subdued, reverent tone. "Eh? What's that?" demanded the deaf old gentleman, who sat beside him.

The host smiled patiently and began again, in a louder, more deprecatory voice.
"Speak a little louder, I don't catch what you say," the old gentleman persisted.

A low ripple of laughter went round the table. The host, his face crimson with embarrassment, raised his voice and repeated the verse. The deaf gentleman did his best to hear, but failed. He placed one hand upon his host's arm.

"What did you say?" he demanded irascibly.

The host cast him an angry glance.

"Damn it, I'm saying grace," he snapped.—June Lippincott's.

TRAPPED IN SEWER

FORTY LABORERS, RAN, SWAM AND FOUGHT WAY OUT.

Coolness of Foreman Connors Brings All To Safety, or They Would Have Died.

New York, July 25.—Forty laborers ran, swam and fought for their lives when the new sewer in West Forty-sixth street was flooded today and but for the coolness of Foreman Ben Connors all would have perished. The men were working in the tube, which is eight feet in diameter, a block in length, and 40 feet below the surface. Suddenly a break occurred in the old sewer above them and the escaping water poured into the open end of the tube. The only exit was at the opposite end, where an airshaft led to the surface.

A moment after a stream first trickled into the tube the flood came and when the men turned to run the water was at their knees and rapidly rising. Then the men, panic-stricken, ran for the shaft and in running fell over each other. When half way to the shaft the water was at their waists.

Screaming and fighting, the men wedged themselves into a helpless mass and all were in imminent peril of drowning. Connors, who had led the way to the shaft, took a hand, and, swinging an ugly looking club, threatened to brain every man of them if they didn't obey him. Then he ordered them to form four abreast and march. Some marched, but more swam, as by that time the water had reached the necks of the taller, while those of lesser height had been swept from their feet.

One by one the men gained the shaft and climbed the ladder to the street. Connors was the last to leave the sewer and when he did he rose from six feet of water.

IN PHILIPPINES

REGISTRATIONS DISPLAY LACK OF INTEREST OF VOTERS.

Election July 30 Promises to Show Falling Off From Returns of 1906.

Washington, July 25.—The bureau of insular affairs received information from the governor general of the Philippines that returns from the registration preparatory to the election of the Philippine assembly on July 30, seem to indicate a falling off as compared with 1906. In Manila a total registration was 7,092, of which 865 were Americans. In 1906 in the province of Pampanga, which has but 3,000 more civilized inhabitants than Manila, the total registration was 6,641; in Pangasinan a province which has a civilized population of 294,516 as compared with 219,937 for Manila, the registration is 9,716.

WIFE HELD THE LANTERN, HUSBAND BUILT HOUSE.

Unique Economy Lesson in Residence of Couple Who Had $1.10 a Day.

Williamstown, N. J., July 25.—Nestled under the big oak trees on the edge of the forest near here, there is one of the most unique little houses in Jersey, built and occupied by John McNeal and his wife.

Seven years ago McNeal located at Williamstown, and obtained a position at $1.10 a day, which he has held ever since. On that income the thrifty Irishman could not rent a house that suited him and his careful wife, so they started to lay by a few cents each day, until they bought a lot on the outskirts of town. Then their home building began.

Every day McNeal went to his employment, and at night, after he was through, many times long after dark, he and his wife would go to their lot, and, while she held the lantern, he dug the collar. By the time the excavating was completed they had saved enough to buy stone for the cellar walls. It was a proud day for them when they could get their first load of lumber. While they were using this, by the light of the lantern enough money was saved to purchase another load, and so the struggle was kept up until the little home reached such a stage that they could live in it.

The house is just 12x10 feet in dimensions. Now the old man—to use his own words—to be able to entertain his friends has started to build a 19x10 foot addition.

Mrs. McNeal, not wearied by her many long hours of lantern holding, had laid out one of the prettiest flower gardens in this section. Over the cottage run vines, which were planted just as soon as there was any thing there for them to cling to. The dwelling is lathed and plastered and fixed with many conveniences.

The total value of taxable real estate in New York city this year is set down as $6,240,480,602. This is an increase of $501,993,357 over the figures for 1906, and allows for an extension of the city debt limit by $50,199,355. In 1904 our credit margin was widened by $26,399,295. In 1905 by $29,595,852 and in 1906 by $51,698,494.—New York Globe.

NEW AGREEMENT

JAPAN AND KOREA CONCLUDE ANOTHER CONVENTION.

Terms Are Not Public, But Korea Complies With All Demands of the Japanese.

Tokio, July 25.—Advices dated Seoul say a new convention between Japan and Korea has been concluded. The text is not made public, but is reported to consist of seven articles. The main feature invests the president-general with complete control of the internal administration of Korea, and appoints Japanese officials of the Korean government.

It is reported that the easy compliance of the Korean government with Japan's demands is due to the fact that the terms are much easier than was apprehended. The removal of the deposed emperor to Tokio is not included in the demands.

Press Censorship.

Seoul, July 25.—Last night Seoul was apparently calm, but apprehension of further disturbances has not subsided. It is asserted that court spies are busy in an effort to ascertain the attitude of Japan. The new press regulation prohibiting the publication of diplomatic and military secrets, or anything injurious to the public peace is being enforced.

The Korean premier's audience Wednesday morning is believed to have been in connection with the demands of Japan, presented through Marquis Ito.

Troops Dissatisfied.

Tokio, July 25.—Advices from Seoul say that mutiny of Korean troops is apprehended. It is believed the new convention between Russia and Japan will be published Saturday.

The chief sanitary officer reports 4,200 white American employees, with only four deaths during the month. Out of about 6,500 whites other than Americans, fifteen deaths and out of about 29,000 colored employees 72 deaths. The total of 91 deaths in June against 96 in May. Only 12 deaths in June were due to climatic diseases, malaria and dysentery.

Humors of the Pulpit.

Although the average person would scarcely look for humor in church services, ludicrous incidents arise now and again which make it an extremely difficult matter for the officiating clergymen to preserve the solemnity of the occasion and maintain a dignified countenance. How many men, for instance, could have successfully resisted the impulse to laugh outright, if placed in the circumstances related by a clerical correspondent of the Church Family Newspaper?

This correspondent tells how he had just commenced taking service one Sunday in a village in southern Manitoba, when, on looking down the aisle, he saw to his consternation that a turkey had strayed into the church. "The novelty of the situation filled me with an almost uncontrollable desire to laugh," the minister continues, "so partly on this account I resolved to ask the church warden to eject the intruder. But before I could do so a dog appeared and seated himself just inside the door. Visions of a turkey-dog squabbling forced me to abandon ideas of offensive operations."

"Meanwhile, it must be admitted, the turkey was behaving itself most devoutly, except that when the congregation stood up it exhibited symptoms of perturbation by protruding its feathers and stretching upward its neck to the furthest limit. Imagine the difficulty of preaching before that bird and maintaining one's equilibrium, especially when we sang 'Happy Birds That Sing and Fly.' Fortunately the turkey did not take the hint, but remained quietly seated on the floor to the end of the service, when it calmly walked out with the people."

According to the same paper, Rev. W. Carrington, formerly vicar of Christ church, West Bromwich, and now in New Zealand, was preaching in a strange church one Sunday evening. While he was having supper at the vicarage afterward a ring came at the bell. The maid entered and said, "Please, sir, there is a man at the door who says he wants to speak to the preacher." The clergyman, thinking he was going to interview some one who had been touched by something he had said in his sermon got up with alacrity and went into the hall. Here he saw a tall, powerful-looking man. "Well, my man, what can I do for you?" "Well, sir, I was thinking while I was a-listening to yer preaching as how you might have a pair of trousers as would fit me." Both were well over six feet in height.

Wedding ceremonies are often attended by amusing incidents, but the experience of Rev. E. J. Wolfe, rector of Anglo, Pembroke, must certainly rank as one of the funniest on record. On one occasion he conducted a wedding ceremony at a village church, and the service proceeded smoothly as far as the question: "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" Whereupon the supposed bridegroom stammered blushing. "Please, sir, I'm not the right man." "Not the right man?" exclaimed the clergyman, aghast. "Then where is the right man?" "He's down at the bottom of the church, sir. He's asheamed to come up."

The following is almost as amusing, the scene again being a village church. The father of the bride, a simple villager, came to give her away, dressed in long black frock coat and with a tall hat. When the clergyman put the question, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" the poor father was lost for the moment, but, recovering himself, he touched his forehead and said, "I do, mate."—London Tid-Bits.

Commissioner Warner Complains That Stepmother Had Negro Blood

Paris, July 25.—In spite of the fact Commissioner of Pensions Vespasian Warner, one of the prominent members of President Roosevelt's official family and a leading politician of Illinois for 30 years, has gone into court here and sworn that his stepmother, Mrs. Isabella Robinson Warner, is of negro blood. The climax in the Warner will case, in which the commissioner of pensions is vitally interested as an heir of the late John Warner, came today with the fling by the respondents of an amended answer, making the startling charge.

The estate of John Warner, who was Commissioner Warner's father, is valued at nearly $2,000,000, and the widow is fighting for her dower rights. Vespasian Warner, who is executor, alleges that an antenuptial agreement made by Isabella Robinson, later Mrs. John Warner, and his father stands in the way of the widow's claims, and that furthermore his stepmother deceived his father by concealing from him the fact that she was part negro.

WAS RIGHT SMITH WHEN WAGON CAME

Assailant of Pete Gibson Now in the Toils

Victim Says Crag Game Was Going on When Colored Men Approached the Group.

SMITH WAS ORDERED TO LEAVE.

Jones Smith, colored, charged with maliciously shooting Fireman Pete Gibson at Wallace park on July 4, was arrested yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, at 1040 Kentucky avenue, a residence formerly occupied by Ida Eastwood. He was lying in bed upstairs when Patrolmen Lige Cross and William Johnson went up and arrested him. "My name is Charlie Smith, and I am the wrong man," he declared, when being taken downstairs. However, when he got into the patrol wagon, he admitted he was the right "Smith," and stated that he shot but not at Gibson; and that if he struck anyone, he did not know it.

Police yesterday received a tip that Smith had returned to town. They located him, and Chief Collins sent Patrolmen Orr, Carter, Jones and Hill to surround the house and prevent escape. Patrolman Kirk, an Illinois special agent, volunteered to assist, and stood guard with the patrolmen.

Smith stated that after the shooting he left Paducah and went to Nortonville, where the chief of police arrested him, took his pistol, and gave him hours to leave town. He claimed he had been several places since, but only yesterday returned to Paducah. His trial is set for tomorrow in police court.

Fireman Gibson's Statement.

The first authentic statement given out concerning the shooting was secured from Fireman Pete Gibson this morning. He has nearly fully recovered, and will leave the hospital in a few days. His statement follows:

"There were two crap games going on back of the park. I was not playing, but a mere looker on. All players were white, and when Jones Smith and two smaller negroes walked up, Ivy Merriman, another fireman, told them to leave, that negroes were not allowed in the park. A few hot words followed. Merriman picked up a stick and the negro said: 'You will not hit me.' Merriman broke the stick in half and threw one-half at Smith, who dodged. When Smith arose he had the gun in his hand. Raising it he fired, and I received the bullet."

Congressman Burton May Resign From Rivers and Harbors Place

A good deal of interest has been aroused here by the report that when the Sixtieth congress convenes, Representative Theodore Burton, of Ohio, will resign the chairmanship of the house committee on rivers and harbors. Mr. Burton has been at the head of this important committee through several congresses. He has made a good record in the place, and also has made a choice collection of enemies.

When Mr. Burton succeeded to the chairmanship, the rivers and harbors pork barrel was the fattest thing congress had. The annual bill always was constructed by the log-rolling process, and it was loaded up with jobs and deals of every description. The thing worked after this fashion: Congressman Pull was a member of the rivers and harbors committee. He didn't want any river and harbor appropriations, but it would help him a lot if he could secure a federal building in a certain town that had no federal business to justify it. Congressman Push was a member of the committee on public buildings and grounds. He had all the federal buildings he could use, but he did need an appropriation to improve Mud creek in order to retain his seat in congress. So Pull and Push got together; Pull got his federal building and Push got his money for Mud creek.

With the advent of Burton all this was changed. The improving of rivers and harbors was reduced to a systematic, business basis, and anyone seeking an appropriation now has to "show" Burton and his committee. Naturally this policy has not proved to the liking of a great many of Mr. Burton's colleagues, and his popularity has suffered.

According to report, however, this is not the main reason why Mr. Burton wishes to resign the chairmanship. He is greatly interested in the work of the inland waterways commission, of which he is a member, and wishes to devote more time to it.

MAYFIELD.

While rubbing liniment on her husband, who was suffering from cramps, Mrs. Nellie Sellers, wife of D. W. Sellers, dropped dead at her home, eight miles north of Mayfield, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The burial took place Wednesday afternoon at the family burying ground, near the Sellers home. Mrs. Sellers was about 25 years of age and a daughter of Henry Lassiter.

L. E. James, alias Jim Johnson, who came here and was arrested on Monday, July 15, at the swapping ring by Sheriff Brand and Deputy John Covington on the charge of selling whisky illegally, has been taken back to Henry county, Tenn., to answer to two charges of stealing cattle.

Sheriff A. T. Edwards and Deputy S. M. Hart, of Paris, arrived in the city Wednesday and took charge of James and left with him at 11 o'clock.

James goes by the name of Johnson when in Mayfield but in reality his name is James. He is about 45 years old. A few days ago the Tennessee officers wrote to Chief McNitt inquiring for such a man, giving a description of the bootlegger. McNitt was puzzled for a time but finally unraveled it and found the desired man in custody of the county jailer. No tears were shed when James departed.

Miss Ellis Lee Neale, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neale, celebrated her thirteenth birthday by giving a party Tuesday evening to several friends at her home on West Broadway. The evening was most pleasantly spent by the young folks, the amusements, being games, contests and music. Refreshments were served to the merry crowd during the evening which were welcomed most heartily.

A delightful affair was the birthday celebration Monday of Rev. S. B. Moore and his daughter, Miss Ruth Moore, whose birthdays were on the same date. A number of friends were invited, and 25 in all, celebrated the birthdays with an outing at Brand's addition. A lunch which consisted of everything conceivable that is good to eat was carried along; also hammocks, swings, rugs and everything conducive to the pleasures of a picnic, and the day was most delightfully spent.

The merry party remained until the cool of the evening, when they returned home happy to have been

CONGO REFORM

IS PROMISED THROUGH AGREEMENT OF BELGIANS.

King Leopold To Be Shorn of His
Arbitrary Powers and Outrages
To Cease in Africa.

Brussels, July 25.—The close of King Leopold's long struggle to stave off the annexation of the Congo colony to Belgium, and to retain personal sovereignty over the rich African state is foreshadowed in the agreement reached July 12 between Belgium and the Congo government, elaborating terms upon which the latter will pass to Belgium. The transfer will mark an important epoch for the Congo as heretofore the civil and military affairs have been under the personal direction of King Leopold and a cabinet of Congo officers independent of Belgium. The new regime will make the Belgian government responsible. England and America have favored this.

When Belgium was created in 1830, the Belgian colonies were not foreseen; no provisions were made in the constitution for colonial administration. Belgian Royalists (Conservatives, Clericals and a fraction of Moderates) want a law to convert the present Congo administration into an autonomous government, not responsible to parliament. Liberals and radicals also desire Congo autonomy, but insist that unless the administration is made responsible to the Belgian parliament it will in no way correct present abuses. In other words the humanitarian reasons which now exist for annexation would be defeated.

Indications are the subject will be threshed out in parliament during the fall.

Society's Favorite Flower.

Whatever the shortcomings of the "400" members of this over-advertised body cannot be charged with neglect of flowers. It is a hopeful sign in a woman to find her fond of flowers and women of the "400" seldom have been seen in a happier light than at present, when they are engaged in rivalry over the cultivation of dahlias.

The dahlia is a common plant in Europe, in many parts growing wild. It is a rarer plant in this country, and as it belongs almost exclusively to the hot house it has been developed to a beauty not approached in the most favorite spot abroad. There is some doubt as to the one who receives the credit for the sudden growth in popularity of the plant. The Vanderbilt conservatories are now stocked with it. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt has marked the dahlia as her favorite flower, and so with Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is another lover of the dahlia, chiefly because of its rainbow tints and its rare value for decorative purposes.

Mrs. Mackay seems to have the lead in the friendly rivalry just now, for she has a dozen plants of truly surpassing beauty. The hearts of the flowers are of variegated brown, with the long, soft, golden petals tapering off to white. The secret of the variety belongs alone to Mrs. Mackay and the Mackay horticulturist, and the Mackay country place in Roslyn finds an adornment even more alluring than the dahlia effects in the Vanderbilt and Whitney homes.—New York Press.
